Marco Hernandez
Sales Representative
marcoh@chromascape.com

Marco Hernandez is a dedicated ChromaScape sales representative specializing in corrugated products. Marco excels in delivering excellent customer service, ensuring clear and effective communication and adeptly identifying and troubleshooting equipment issues to meet customer needs.

Marco brings extensive experience in the corrugated industry. He has worked as both an adhesive specialist and a corrugator supervisor. He has hands-on expertise in operating bonding machines and resolving adhesive bonding issues, providing on-site services and training to new employees. Marco has also overseen production teams involved in creating corrugated boards, panels and related materials using converting machines.

Marco has attended the University of Phoenix studying project and business management.

Marco is married with two sons. He enjoys spending his free time camping and taking road trips, embracing the great outdoors with his family.
